

Lab Assignment – Guidelines

Spring 2026

The lab report has to discuss the approach followed for performing the various experiments specified by the assignment and the results of each experiment. Notably, the discussion should be supported by figures and tables. All figures and tables must be cited in the text and explained in detail. Figures and tables should also be used to demonstrate your conclusions.

In the preparation of your report, please follow the template available in the Labs directory, i.e., lab-report-template.tex.

The lab report (a PDF file named as lab-report-YOUR-NAME) has to be submitted via email to mcc@unipv.it. Please specify in the message Subject: EDI – Lab report submission – YOUR NAME

The report must be submitted five days before the final written exam with one exception. For those of you who plan to take the exam on June 15, the deadline is set to June 12, 2026.

The use of genAI is strictly forbidden for any of the activities related to the lab assignment.
